

OGLESBY FILES CONTEST IN COOK COUNTY COURT

EX-SENATOR CRANE OF MASSACHUSETTS DIED SUDDENLY THIS MORN

Sleeping Sickness Caused Death of Prominent G. O. P. Leader.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Daiton, Mass., Oct. 2.—Former United States Senator W. Murray Crane, who has been seriously ill for several weeks died suddenly at his home here early today.

While in attendance at the notification ceremonies of Governor Calvin Coolidge, as Republican vice presidential nominee at arthropalmist last summer Mr. Crane was stricken ill. He recovered quickly, however, and it was announced that he was overcome by the heat. A few weeks ago his condition became so serious that he was confined to his bed. He died rapidly last night and death occurred about 4 o'clock this morning.

Family With Him
The former senator's wife, his son, Winthrop Murray Crane, Jr., and his two sisters, Miss Clara L. Crane and Mrs. Mary O. Bates were at his bedside when he died.

At the Republican national convention last June, Mr. Crane participated in the League of Nations fight against the advice of friends who realized his health had been impaired by overwork.

The immediate cause of death was given by Mr. Crane's secretary as sleeping sickness. He had been sleeping, the secretary said, for four or five days.

An outstanding characteristic of Winthrop Murray Crane, former Governor of Massachusetts and for two terms a United States Senator from that state, was the fact that he attained eminence in public life without being an orator. Although he served eight years in the Senate it was said of him that he never made what really called a "speech" in that body.

The successor of Senator Hoar, whose wit and eloquence rang through the halls of Congress, Crane's chief claim to distinction was that of silent leadership and of a party mediator.

Was Great Harmonizer.

Senator Crane on more than one occasion in the interval from 1904 to 1913, when Republican differences developed and party measures were endangered, demonstrated his ability as a harmonizer and by using his persuasive powers in personal interviews with other senators, with whom he was popular, restored peace. On one occasion the fate of an important bill appeared to depend upon the vote of one senator. His colleagues had tried in vain, by many methods to learn the probable attitude of this man, Crane, who had been talking the matter over with a group of Republican senators, remarked: "Wait a minute." He crossed the floor of the Senate chamber to the receding desk and conversed with him in low tones for a few moments. Returning to his friends, he announced with a smile: "He'll vote for the bill." "How did you find out?" was the astonished inquiry. "I asked him," was Crane's reply.

Born in Daiton, Mass., April 23, 1853, the son of Zenas M. Crane, a paper manufacturer, young Crane was educated in the public schools and at Williston College but, after leaving the seminary, entered the paper mills founded by his grandfather at Daiton and in them he maintained an interest (Continued on Page Two)

Dixon Man in Bad; Name is Withheld

Mendota Sun-Bulletin: Sheriff Curt Ayers attended the Mendota Fair last week and as his eagle eye was glancing among the crowd of spectators a fellow was located leaning over the fence, pouring forth a stream of thick language. He also noted that there was quite a bulge in the region of his hip pocket under his coat and made an investigation. He found that the man was from Dixon and was carrying a bottle of "moonshine" and also about $2 in money. He was taken into custody as a possible moonshiner. The fellow informed the sheriff that he was carrying the booze for another fellow which caused the sheriff to believe that he had a member of a boot-legging gang.

The sheriff turned the prisoner over to the local authorities and they placed him in the city jail to recover from the effects of the moonshine.

After he had sobered up he was given a trial and plead guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct. After paying his fine he was liberated.

HARDING SAYS ONE FOR ALL; ALL FOR ONE MUST BE MOTTO

Declared for Improved Education and Life on Farms.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
West Jefferson, O., Oct. 2.—Advocating an agricultural and industrial policy to coordinate American resources for the common good, Senator Harding declared in a speech at a Republican rally near here today that "one for all and all for one" must be the motto of individual effort if the nation is to achieve its full potentialities.

"I want to see American life knit together," he said, "and every American so appreciative of the fact that welfare of his fellow is his own welfare, that we will go forward to weave a great and humane pattern of united Americanism." Making a particular appeal for betterment of the condition of the farmer, the nominee asserted that agricultural production really was of greater interest to those who live in cities than to the farmers themselves. As a part of the same community of interest, he said, transportation facilities must be stabilized and a rehabilitated railway system supplemented by inland waterways development and by commercial use of motor trucks to carry freight.

Co-operative Marketing.

The senator reiterated his belief that farmers should be given the right of co-operative marketing, should be encouraged through the federal farm loan system to own the farms they live on, should be assured stable transportation facilities and should be given protection against unfair competition from abroad. He also advocated a better system of rural education and a higher standard of farm social welfare, and declared that profiteering "must be squeezed out."

Discussing in detail the problem of rural education, Mr. Harding took occasion to speak a word for the education of adults in current events and asserted that such a movement would constitute "the true bulwark against extreme radicalism."

Improved Education.

"We must see to it," he said, "that we immediately raise the standards of rural education." Nowhere, I think, is there more cause for alarm than in the United States only averages one hundred and thirty-seven days a year. We must have no bureaucracy of the federal government in education but we owe it to the childhood of the nation to place at its disposal the utmost in educational facilities. "It is my belief that the conception of adult education will develop in America. The education of the adult, which teaches the facts of current life at home and abroad will be the true bulwark against extreme radicalism and will be the basis of an intelligent, free and tolerant thought."

Daring Aviator is Dead; Terrible Fall

"Tex" McLaughlin, sensational airplane acrobat, who thrilled 10,000 persons at the Bureau County fair by his death-defying feats, is dead. He met the fate predicted for him by those who witnessed his marvelous performances at Princeton and Dixon, folks who also witnessed his fall. He was fatally injured at Syracuse, N. Y., where he was giving exhibitions before 50,000 persons at the state fair. He had grabbed the rope ladder dangling from one airplane and was climbing to the plane when the strong wind blew him against the propeller. He was badly cut and the plane fell 500 feet. He clung to the rope and was dragged along the ground when the pilot made a landing. He died several hours later.

Mercury Registered Below Freezing Mark

The mercury last night dropped below the freezing point for the first time this fall when it registered a low mark of 31, one degree below freezing. On the two previous nights it dropped to within two degrees of that mark. Frosts were prevalent and one man reported ice had formed on a tub of water in his yard during Thursday night.

Employee at Milk Factory Was Hurt

Albert Knapke, 619 Fourth Ave., is confined to his bed as the result of a fall he sustained at the Borden plant Thursday. He had climbed a ladder to turn on a steam valve when the ladder slipped from under him and he fell 15 feet to the floor, striking on his back. No bones were broken but the jar has completely incapacitated him and it will probably be several weeks before he can resume his work.

TO BEGIN WORK ON ELEVEN NEW COLONY BLDGS.

Bloomington Firm Will Start Construction at Once.

Harry Dick, member of the firm of Simmons, Dick, Co., of Bloomington, to which was awarded the contract of erecting eleven new buildings at the Dixon State Colony, is expected in Dixon the first of the week to make preliminary arrangements for commencing the construction work immediately, under the terms of the contract.

The state Department of Public Works & Building yesterday let the contract for all of the new construction work at the Colony to the Bloomington firm under two separate bids, as follows:

Employees building, dormitory, hospital, ward building, receiving building for tubercular patients at the colony for the feeble minded, $623,931. Serving room and four ward cottages at colony for epileptics, $207,300.

The firm submitted a gross bid of $817,000 for the combined work but, for some reason not made evident in the dispatches from Springfield the state authorities saw fit to award the contracts individually.

DEMOCRAT ASKS G. O. P. VICTORY FROM DEATHBED

Commends Harding Stand on League of Nations Issue.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Broken in health and with his life ebbing, Chester H. Terrell, Speaker of the Texas House and a Democrat from the cradle, telegraphed Senator Harding from San Antonio urging him to stand steadfast against the League of Nations.

Mr. Terrell said that he had never contemplated changing parties until he found that his own party had committed itself to a League of Nations "which contains such a provision as Article X," adding that if he lived his hope was to vote in November for an America first and last.

Senator Harding acknowledged the telegram but his reply reached the bedside of the Texas leader shortly after he had passed away.

The telegram of Mr. Terrell follows in part:

"It is entirely beyond my conception that any American could ever agree that Great Britain should have six votes to America's one before the assembly of the League of Nations, before the labor convention provided for under the League of Nations, and might have as many as three votes to one before the council.

"The suggestion for us to adopt an interpretative resolution which would have no binding effect, is an absolute absurdity.

"I have been confined to my bed for nearly two years, and I suppose I am one of the very few men who have read everything appearing in the Congressional Record on the treaty, including speeches of Senators on both sides, and other data printed on the subject.

"The Republican Senators did the only sensible thing that could have been done under the circumstances after the treaty and the League of Nations were presented by the President.

"Governor Cox is out for the treaty unamended. Its adoption unamended by the Senate within the next two years is known to every student of the political situation to be an impossibility."

Downing Offers to Sell Wood Cheaply

With a possible outlook for a marked scarcity of coal in Dixon for at least some few weeks to come, George J. Downing has offered a suggestion which will relieve the situation to some extent and prevent suffering. On his farm at the Rocks three miles west of the city, Mr. Downing has announced that parties so desiring, may cut their own wood. A power saw will be on the ground and the wood sawed into stove lengths for a nominal sum. Persons desiring to take advantage of this method of supplying themselves with fuel should apply to Mr. Downing.

LEGION TEAM OPENS SEASON SUNDAY, OCT. 17

Dixon Soldier Organization to Have Fine Eleven.

The Dixon American Legion football eleven will open its season with the Morrison Legion team here Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17. Commander Sherwood Dixon, who is coaching the team in its practice, announced this morning that at least five games will be played at home, the schedule including games with Legion teams from Sterling, Morrison and Rochelle and with the Maroons and Wolverines from Rockford.

The teams who have been scheduled to play represent the strongest in this vicinity and the Dixon Legion will present a lineup which will surprise the local football fans. Coach Dixon expects to announce his lineup just before the opening game.

Team Needs Support.

The support of the citizens of Dixon is very essential in the success of the team. That being the first season of their organization, the team is at a considerable expense for equipment and in order that they may carry out their schedule of games, it will be necessary that they receive the patronage of the Dixon fans. All games to be played at home will be staged at the Brown Field. The team has been undergoing some strenuous workouts for several days and will be in readiness for their first game. Coach Dixon has practically decided upon his lineup with the exception of a few minor positions which will be filled this next week. The team will doubtless be the best that has ever been formed in this city and with the cooperation of the citizens by their liberal patronage, will enjoy a very successful season.

GIRLS WANT "DADDY."

A sympathetic letter was received by Chief Van Bibber this morning in which the daughters of H. W. Backofen of Crookston, Minn., have written to the Dixon chief, asking his assistance in locating their father. A neighbor or friend of the children evidently wrote the letter which ended by saying, "his children want their daddy."

The letter states that H. W. Backofen has not been heard of since last February and at that time was in Beloit. He is a moulder by trade and his daughters are making an effort to locate him. The man is not known here.

ASKS PRIMARY VOTE OF COOK CO. TO BE HELD UP

Democrat Challenges Right of Women to Vote.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 2.—Lieutenant Governor John Oglesby filed a petition in the County Court here today asking that the result of the recent primary election in Chicago be excluded from the official count for the state until such time as it can be canvassed for possible errors or frauds.

Oglesby won by a big majority down state, but on the face of unofficial returns lost by about 5000 votes when the Chicago figures were added. John Maynard, Harlan, announced today that a petition entering him in the Republican race as an independent candidate for governor was to be filed at Springfield today by his friends. He had not definitely decided to make the race, he said, but the petition was being filed now as a precaution.

Petitions entering the entire Thompson state ticket as independent candidates are also being prepared. It was reported and will be filed in order that they may run if they should be counted out when the state canvassing board completed its check of the primary vote.

Questions Women's Vote.

A protest against the entire women's vote in the recent primary was filed with the board of elections commissioners today Robert Emmett Burke, defeated Democratic candidate for the nomination for United States senator.

Mr. Burke's petition asserts that the women are not entitled to vote for United States Senator under Illinois statutes, and that if their vote is stricken out he would win the Democratic nomination.

Peter Waller of Kewanee defeated Mr. Burke on the face of the combined vote of men and women.

Charges Fraud.
Oglesby's petition charges that the election commissioners, particularly August Leiders and Frank X. Rydzewski, have acted illegally in their canvass of the votes in disputed districts.

The basis of the petition is the alleged failure of election officials in 300 precincts to certify in the poll books the statement of votes cast.

The court is asked to direct the commissioners to include no results whatever from the city of Chicago for the Republican party at the primary.

It is also asked that commissioners be ordered to reject all returns from precincts where the vote tallied by the clerks exceeded the vote actually cast. In the 300 precincts under dispute, the vote tallied for Small, Thompson candidate for governor and accepted by the commissioners exceeds the vote tallied for Oglesby by 9086.

If the petition is upheld by Burns the Small plurality in these precincts will be wiped out.

MAYNARD PETITION READY.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—The petition of John Maynard Harlan of Chicago as "Harding-Coolidge Republican" candidate for governor will be filed at 3 o'clock this afternoon by officers of the National Young Men's Republican League of Chicago. Signed with 1489 names, part of the petition arrived here just at noon.

On the next train from Chicago, more signers of Mr. Harlan's petition will be brought by the president of the league, Lin William Price. Only 600 names are required, but Secretary Harry Swan, who brought the first batch, delayed filing it, he said so as to be sure of a good petition.

Mr. Harlan, Secretary Swan said, will run on a new ticket named "Harding-Coolidge Republican." His candidacy was planned a month ago, Mr. Swan said, when a court contest between Oglesby and Small threatened, and Illinois faced the possibility of losing a Republican governor. Mr. Harlan will fill the breach should the contest, Mr. Swan said, put both Oglesby and Small out of the running.

Leaders and Rydzewski directed the recording of an incorrect statement of voters, the petition charges. Their action, it is charged, was taken despite the fact that their attention was called to many alleged frauds and irregularities. Any tabulated statement of the vote cast made by the commissioners as a result of their canvass will be void the petition charges.

WOUNDED BANDIT AND NEGRO WERE IN DIXON TWICE LAST FRIDAY

Ross and Simms Transported Stolen Goods Thru This City.

Chief Van Bibber and S. E. Huggins returned last evening from Rochelle and Oregon where they spent several hours with the police and officials. At the Lincoln hospital at Rochelle they visited Howard Ross, alias Hall, who was shot by a police officer one week ago today after he had been ordered to halt three times and continued to run.

Mr. Huggins, who conducts a store in Dementtown, had missed some articles from his stock recently and went to Oregon to the county jail where the loot Ross had offered for sale is being held. They failed to identify any of the articles as being from the Huggins store.

Charlie Simms, the negro who was arrested at Sycamore, as being an accomplice of Ross, is also being held at the Ogle county jail at Oregon. He has told many conflicting stories, but has admitted that he and Ross were in Dixon a week ago today, on their way to Savanna and again on their return.

According to Simms' story, Ross, who was known to him as Charlie, came into the barber shop in Sycamore where Simms was employed, and asked him to get his wife's car and take him to Rochelle. Simms drove to Rochelle and then to Dixon and here Ross told him he wanted to go on to Savanna. Simms objected to making the trip at the original price Ross had offered, whereupon Ross agreed to "make it right" and they proceeded.

Bought Sacks Here.

Simms has told the Ogle county authorities that they stopped in Dixon on a week ago last evening between 6 and 6 o'clock and filled their tank with gasoline at a filling station. They then went to a store and purchased the burlap sacks, which contained the loot when Ross was captured a week ago. They crossed the bridge and drove to Savanna, Ross directing the route. They drove up to a direct street and stopped between two houses, Ross leaving the car for about 20 minutes and finally returning with two men.

They drove out of town and stopped at a corn field in which the boxes, which had been taken from a car on a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train, were hidden and covered with a heavy piece of linoleum. The loot was placed in the sacks and loaded into the car. Ross and Simms returning at once. According to his story, little of which is believed, they arrived in Dixon on the return trip about 11 o'clock Friday evening, but did not stop here, continuing east on the River road after crossing the bridge here.

Simms says that this was the first and only time that he had visited Dixon. Ross refused to talk yesterday when he was visited in his room at the

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Wheat Reaches New Low Price for Crop

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 2.—Trade in wheat was mostly of a local character today. There was some free selling by local traders with December showing little change from yesterday, while March averaged higher. After starting 3/4c to 2c higher than yesterday's finish, with Dec. 2.12 1/2 to 2.13 and March 2.08 1/2 to 2.09, prices fluctuated within a relatively narrow range.

Wheat continues its downward trend until it reached a new low on the crop. The sentiment was generally bearish and at the finish prices were close to the bottom with a range showing a net loss of 3/4c to 1/2c from yesterday's close with Dec. 2.07 to 2.07 1/2 and March 2.03 to 2.03 1/4.

Buying of corn by a strong commission house caused this cereal to advance slightly at the start. Initial quotations which ranged from 1/2c lower to 1/4c higher, with Dec. 92 1/2 to 93c, soon fell off when the buying stopped.

Oats were easy, the market starting unchanged to 1/4c higher with Dec. 17 1/2 to 17 3/4, then became weak.

Provisions were higher as the result of the big decrease in local stocks of lard for the month.

Buying against bids checked the decline in corn after Dec. and May had sold at a new low on the crop. At the finish, prices were off 2c to 3c from yesterday's finish, with Dec. 90 1/2 to 91 1/4.

Weekly Grain Review.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 2.—Canadian competition has been a big factor this week in forcing the wheat market here sharply downward. Compared with a week ago, wheat this morning was 8c to 14c lower, corn off 1 1/2c to 5c, oats varying from 1/2c decline to 1/4c gain, and provisions at losses of 7 1/2c to $1.45.

General cutting of commodity values together with some uncertainty as to financial conditions had shaken the confidence of wheat bulls, and it soon became evident that the market was unable to withstand continued announcement of larger imports from Canada for domestic miller. The fact that on the resulting declines export business of large volume took place in the United States failed to act as a counter balance. Meanwhile, bearish estimates of the world supply did a good deal to influence sentiment, and it was contended that no world scarcity could develop before May or June.

In this connection special attention was given to advice that India had released 14,000,000 bushels of wheat for export, notwithstanding recent word of widespread starvation there.

Despite frost corn went downward with wheat. One authority figured that the corn yield would exceed the government forecast by 82,000,000 bushels. Oats were relatively firm with no scantiness of receipts.

Provisions reflected the weakness of breadstuffs and corn.

To Let Contracts for Illinois Locks

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 2.—Election of officers was the principal business of the ninth annual convention of the American Association of port authorities at the closing session today.

The convention speakers have dwelt largely upon improvement of Great Lakes harbors and the development of the waterway projects from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and to the ocean through the St. Lawrence river. Lack of adequate transportation was dwelt upon yesterday with speakers advocating the waterways as a solution.

M. G. Barnes, chief engineer of the Illinois State Department of Public Works and Buildings, stressed the need of better harbor facilities in Chicago and said that already railroads were finding it necessary to ship freight to Milwaukee by rail, there to be forwarded to its destination by water because water terminals are too expensive in Chicago.

The delegates estimated that three years time would elapse before completion of the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico waterways. A bond issue of $20,000,000 for the construction of a navigable channel from Lockport to Utica has already been passed. Specifications for dams and locks at Marseilles and Starved Rock, Ill., have been drawn up and next week contracts for their construction will be let.

Cox Continues His Defense of League

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 2.—In his speech at Miami, Okla., and at Joplin today Governor Cox discussed the humanitarian provisions of the League of Nations, asserting that the "protections of peace" are opposed to it because it prevents them from "exploitation of humanity in sweatshops and insanitary factories."

The governor said: "Under Article 23 of the members of the League agree to maintain fair and just conditions for men, women and children, to co-operate in prevention of communicable, contagious and vocational diseases; to prohibit exploitation of women and children and to control the traffic in opium and other dangerous drugs."

Governor Cox asserted it must be a great satisfaction to the women of America to know they were recognized on equality with men in holding league positions "months before they were granted the right of suffrage in our own country."

EX-SENATOR CRANE OF MASSACHUSETTS DIED SUDDENLY THIS MORN

terers throughout his life. For many years these mills produced the paper used by the United States government in engraving its currency, bonds and notes. Because of his interest in this industry and his desire to continue with it, Mr. Crane, at the beginning of President Roosevelt's administration, declined an invitation to enter his cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury.

T. R. His Friend.

President Roosevelt held the "silent" Massachusetts man in high esteem. Crane had been unusually successful in averting strikes and disagreements at the Dalton mills. In 1902, when he was Governor of Massachusetts, he was instrumental in adjusting by arbitration a serious strike of teamsters and freight handlers in Boston. Later, it is said, he suggested to President Roosevelt the method by which the strike of several hundred thousand coal miners in the anthracite fields was settled.

Three years as Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts preceded Crane's entrance into the Senate to fill the vacancy in 1904 caused by the death of George F. Hoar. Appointed to the Senate on October 12, 1904 he was selected the following January for the term ending in 1917 and reelected for the term ending in 1913. At the expiration of his second term he declined to seek renomination. Mr. Crane had been a member of the Republican National Committee from 1892 to 1900 and from 1904 to 1920.

He was a delegate-at-large to six national conventions. At the last Republican National Convention in Chicago he was one of the group that consolidated the delegates when they appeared hopelessly deadlocked, and brought about the nomination of Senator Harding. Mr. Crane was a strong advocate of a League of Nations.

He was always interested in scientific agriculture. By application of business methods he developed 2,700 acres of neglected land in Dalton into a successful farm. Mr. Crane made many important gifts to his home town and gave largely to charitable objects. He was credited with having saved many individuals and small companies in the Berkshires from bankruptcy when they were overcome by business difficulties. Williams College bestowed upon him the honorary degree of Master of Arts in 1897 and in 1903 Harvard made him a Doctor of Laws.

Mr. Crane married Mary, the daughter of Robert Benner, of Astoria, L. I., in 1880. Bereft by the death of his young wife four years later he remained a widower until 1906 when he married Josephine Porter, a daughter of William J. Boardman, of Washington.

The speed limit on the Galena Ave. bridge has been fixed at a rate not to exceed six miles an hour, and it is at this time particularly necessary that this law be enforced. The new floor on the bridge is very narrow and fast driving is dangerous to vehicles crossing the bridge and to men engaged in repairing it. Therefore the officers at the bridge have been instructed to strictly enforce this law.

WOMAN'S CLUB RECITAL.

The Dixon Woman's club first meeting of the year is to be a recital to be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Coppins, Monday evening, Oct. 4.

The club has been very fortunate in securing Ralph Leo, of the Bush Conservatory. The following article is taken from the Music News, Lockport, where Leo made his initial bow at the National American Music Festival.

Ralph Leo, making his initial bow at Lockport, at once captivated his audience and easily walked away with one big success of the week. He has excellent appearance, perfect pose and impeccable enunciation powers, as well as voice of unusual strength and beauty. The two songs by his father, a noted teacher of voice at Cedar Rapids, were extremely well liked, as was also an "After the War," belabored by himself, all of which were long beautifully.

The Homer song was properly dramatic and exquisitely pronounced, the "One Year" (1914-1915) again proved to be a song of intensely powerful import as sung by Leo, the Rutherford bagatelle was so well liked that repetition should have been accorded, the duet song showed itself to be one of the very best of the spirituals, and the "Battle Hymn," magnificently sung, made so profound an impression that one wondered anew that it is not included on every program of American songs.

All members are requested to take advantage of this opportunity and are given the privilege of bringing one guest.

SHEARBURN-KEIGWIN.

Miss Margaret Shearburn and Horace T. Keigwin, prominent young couple of Walnut, were married Thursday, Sept. 16th, at Princeton. Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Keigwin left on a honeymoon trip to Indiana and Ohio.

The groom is the only son of Mrs.

Liebert Keigwin. He grew to manhood in Walnut. He has a responsible position with the Holt Caterpillar tractor company of Peoria. He is now located in Virginia, where the newly wedded couple expect to spend the winter.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

The woman who does her own work with the assistance of help by the day will find it worth her while to tag her cleaning brushes.

You know from constant and daily use which is the vegetable and which the sink brush but the helper who works in four or five different kitchens during the week has to rely more or less on her intuition, which may be wrong.

Print with indelible ink on the wooden back of each brush its use. Brushes with handles should have a piece of tape with the use printed in indelible ink firmly attached to the handle.

MENU FOR TOMORROW.

BREAKFAST—Grapes, French toast, sirup, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Mock club sandwich, hot ginger bread, apple sauce, tea.

DINNER—Broiled beef steak, French fried potatoes, creamed corn, lettuce salad with Russian dressing, pumpkin pie, coffee.

My Own Recipes.

Steak may be pan broiled directly over or under the fire. When pan broiled the frying-pan should be barely greased. When hot rub over with a piece of suet from the steak. The pan must be very hot when the steak is put in and heat must not be allowed to decrease.

MOCK CLUB SANDWICH.

eggs
tomatoes
lettuce
mayonnaise

Allow 2 slices of bacon, 1 egg, 2 slices of tomato, lettuce to cover the toast and a scant tablespoonful of mayonnaise for each sandwich. Cook the bacon until crisp. Fry the eggs in the bacon fat, breaking the yolk into the white. Pour off most of the fat and fry the sliced tomatoes very quickly. Have the toast hot. Put a leaf of lettuce on the toast, add the mayonnaise, then the bacon, egg and last the tomato. Cover with another piece of toast and serve at once.

CREAMED CORN.

6 ears corn
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
salt and pepper

Cut through the center of each row of kernels. Cut off tops and scrape out the pulp and milk. If the corn is not perfectly fresh add 1 teaspoonful of sugar. Put milk into a sauce pan. When scalding hot add corn. Let cook 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Rub butter and flour together and stir into corn. Add salt and pepper and cook till smooth and creamy.

As the ice bill decreases the gas bill increases. The weather has us coming and going.

MOTOR TRUCK HELPS HEAVY RAIL TRAFFIC

Observation Shows Big Relief to Be Gained from Truck Haulage.

That the automobile has been a potent factor in the relief of congestion in railroad traffic is proven by figures obtained from a day's observation of the motor truck transportation over one of the country's busiest highways.

These figures represent an average day of travel over the Chicago-Hammond-Gary highways, compiled by representatives of the B. F. Goodrich Company at a station near the Indiana-Illinois state line.

In the 24 hours of observation, the recorders counted 1079 trucks of all kinds, of which 437, or 40 per cent, were empty. The empty trucks represent a carrying capacity of 1316 tons and if loaded would release railroad freight cars for other duties at the rate of 18,300 cars a year.

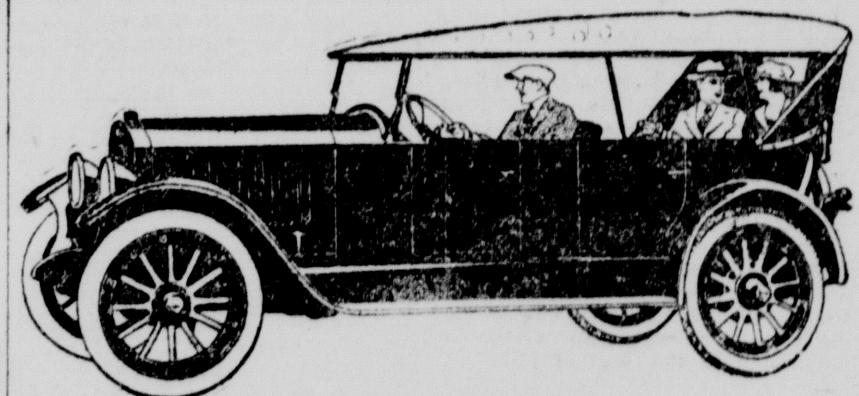

The census of that day also points out an average of three passenger automobiles and one motor truck passed the observation station each minute. During the peak hour, eight passenger cars a minute was the average. Besides, 81-horse-drawn vehicles passed the station during the day.

This shows the role of the motor vehicle in relieving railroad terminal congestion. Highway transportation engineers say motor haulage is in its infancy. They say the Chicago-Gary road is excellent enough to withstand five times its present traffic before the congestion point is reached.

When that point is attained, they calculate, this one bit of highway will have carried over it in one year enough material to release 150,000 freight cars for other uses.

HOW AMERICA IS VIDOVITCHED

The other day one Peter Vidovitch,
a California and Alaska miner, arrived in New York on his way to Serbia.
He was taken sick, removed to a hospital, and died. In his handbag were found $200,000 in securities, bank books showing deposits of $60,000 in San Francisco and in Fairbanks, Alaska, a money belt containing $1900 cash, $5000 worth of jewelry, a large gold nugget, several deeds to Fairbanks property, and a will giving all his wealth to relatives in Austria.

This case is an indication, although perhaps an extreme one, of what is going on all the time in the United States. Thousands of immigrants come to our shores with no intention whatever of becoming American citizens and making their permanent homes in the United States. They come here solely to enjoy for a time
the benefit of laws which enable them to live in safety and comparative comfort while they are accumulating sufficient fortune to enable them to return to their own countries and live in luxury according to their own standards for the rest of their lives. They know that this is the land of opportunity to earn and save. They know that a poor man with ambition and thrift can progress here in a few years
as he could not in a lifetime in Europe—facts that many a native born does not realize. When they have reached their goal in America, they go back to Europe to live as gentlemen of leisure.

They have the right to do it so long as our laws fail to put any restrictions on them. But this is a contribution to Europe of which we seldom hear. How many million leave this country annually on the persons of such men as Peter Vidovitch can not be counted,
but the sum total would be staggering
if it could be known.

Those who think the United States is inclined to hoard its resources should consider the facts. The truth is that the door to American wealth is wide open to the world, and the invitation is there for any who choose to enter and help themselves. No obligations of citizenship, no tax on their harvest
of American shekels is imposed on them.

ITALY'S REVOLUTION

Bolshevism has been mortally defeated in Italy.

Under conditions that would have been resistless if Bolshevism had possessed any creative activity, the Soviet system of government has been rejected by the Italian workers. By a three-fourths majority they had voted to return all factories to the employers.

The crude economic absolutism of the Russian orientals cannot henceforth hope to conquer in western Europe.

Premier Giolitti is responsible for this death blow to the expectant hopes of the communists. He held back the government, the army and the employers and let the workmen of Italy face
the enticements of Bolshevism alone. Giolitti trusted the instinct of self-preservation in western civilization. He judged well.

The revolution, long prophesied for Italy, advanced with red flags spattered with Russian blood, hoping to meet resistance from the bourgeoisie, the capitalists and the government.

Instead, the revolution was unopposed.

Giolitti presented the horrible

BRINGING UP FATHER.

spectre to the workmen and told them to decide for Italy. It was an act of statesmanship that reached the heights of genius. The workmen rejected the revolution.

Private property will not come tumbling to the ground in Italy, spreading devastation and woe over rich and poor alike. The workmen have read the lesson of Russia. Giolitti's test has proven this fact to the world.

SCHOOL STUDIES

Once it was generally believed that certain studies were specially adapted to train memory, the reason, and the other "faculties" of those who took them, and that the training received in any one such study would spread its good effects over everything.

That was the theory of "formal discipline"; and on the strength of it pupils were urged to study vigorously precise subjects like mathematics and Latin, even when it was conceded that these were not likely to be used very much directly in every day life.

Nowadays psychologists do not believe that separate mental "faculties" exist, and many experiments have shown that the "transfer" of the effects of training from one field to another is very much less than everyone
used to suppose.

And so the object of well-directed school work today is not so much to "cultivate" or strengthen minds and faculties as to teach the things that will while to know, to satisfy natural curiosity, to give larger points of view and broaden sympathies, in short, to enrich the life of the pupil and help him to adopt himself to the world of things and people in which he will have to live.

This is simpler and more human,
and the change of object gives a more dignified place in the school to things like music and dancing, which overcome social awkwardness and add to the joy of living; to domestic science and manual training, which give skill and courage to face the material world; to nature study and the social sciences, with all their human interest.

It probably isn't true, as reported, that in the recent primaries the blonds voted the blue ballots and the brunets chose pink.

Dispatches from Constantinople say can't they ever get a healthy man to summer is a hussy, too, and frequently

But Bill was bit by the back-to-the-Bill had never been on the land.

He had floundered along the rural highway, and it looked good to him.
"There's independence for you!" he exclaimed.

"Nature grows your crops. You harvest 'em, and spend the money."
"Listen, will, doesn't it?"

"Fresh air, outdoor exercise, cheap

hand as you'll find anywhere.

What he didn't know about raising crops and growing livestock isn't worth accumulating in an agricultural brain.

Just Hank had been to the city.
He went there for four days on a visit.
They were big days, what with the movie and the burlesque, and the street cars, and the parks, and great crowds of people prancing up and down every street, what more could a guy want out of life.

"I'm going to pull up stakes here," Hank said, "and go where life is;
where you know you're living."

Hank was one of the best farmers in Hoopole-tp.

William Blivens has spent 12
years getting out from under his farm mortgage, and now, the county agricultural agent admits, Farmer Blivens knows fully half as much about farming as Hank Hornsby knew when he left the neighborhood. Also he earns half as much as he did in the city shop.

Henry Hornsby, after tackling forty-seven different varieties of jobs, finally glued himself to waving the flag at a grade crossing, which rewards him in the sum of $1.45 per day.

"What's that procession?" asked a curious bystander.

"That," replied another, "is a gang of farm hands hustling to the city to escape the drudgery of farm toil."

"And what's that other procession?"
"Oh, that's the city fellows heaving
it to farms to escape the drudgery of city work."

OF THE TWINS

VISITORS

When Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairly schoolmaster, saw the visitors
coming to his sleepy, yawny school that lovely fall morning, he was worried to death. Why was it that company had to come walking in when things were sure to go wrong, or a Friday afternoon when they were rushing to get through with lessons
so they could play games? Or, worst of all, why did they come at all,
when the moonlight nights were so lovely and the sweet corn was ripe, which Cobby Corn loved so, and the buckwheat, too, which Chippy Chip-munk liked so well. All those things kept the pupils of Meadow Grove school out of bed long after 7 o'clock,

and so, of course, they couldn't study
their lessons.

In walked the visitors, and the worst of it was, it was the school board. Now the school board isn't a cleaned each day with a soft cloth or brush. When he is old enough, the child should be taught the daily use of the toothbrush. (If he is given a good tasting dentifrice or tooth paste,

he will enjoy keeping his teeth clean.)

The first teeth are necessary to hold the proper shape of the jaw until the second teeth are ready to break through. For that reason they should not be neglected. At the first sign of decaying teeth, the child should be taken to a dentist.

The first set of teeth is replaced by the permanent teeth beginning with the sixth year. The sixth year molar may be recognized as the sixth tooth, counting from the middle of the jaw in front toward the back. Because this tooth comes through at the time the child is losing its temporary teeth this tooth is often mistaken for one of them and is allowed to remain untreated and to decay. It is especially desirable that a child should be taken to a dentist at this time because the six year molar is one of the most important of all the teeth.

It sometimes happens that the first teeth are so firm that they do not fall out, but remain in the jaws and crowd back the second teeth, making them come in misshapen and irregular. Irregular teeth and jaw may be remedied when a child is young.

Beautiful teeth are the right of every person. Sound teeth are necessary to good teeth.

THE BOOK OF ANN.

I FIND MYSELF MORE ENTAGLED
IN THE MYSTERY THAN I THOUGHT.

"I beg your pardon! I think I've met Mr. Ives twice in my life! But the meetings were unimportant—I simply did not—for the moment—recall either."

I bowed to the small man politely, turned to the prosecuting attorney with hand outstretched for leave-taking, murmured "thank you very much" and started toward the door.

Then the assistant prosecutor—the little man who seemed to have the disagreeable work to do, said saue-vely:

"Just another moment, Mrs. Lorimer. Have you ever seen this key?"

From a drawer in his desk he drew the key of the bathhouse—the key Ann had carried away—and threw it with a horrid jingle on the table before my astonished eyes.

"I have," I said briefly. Then I closed my lips determinedly. I didn't intend to tell him one little mite of Ann's story. I hadn't been summoned in the case. I was not going to let him question me. I kept my chin as high as any feminist could desire and once more I started for the door.

"This key, Mrs. Lorimer, was found in your reception room," said the small man. "It had been concealed—under a sofa pillow."

Suddenly the full significance of his words found its way to my understanding.

COMB SAGE TEA IN
HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea
and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again
using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home.
All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb with a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies
with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

that I, or my husband, should have become tangled in this web of crime!
I perceived what the prosecutor implied. Bob had had trouble with me about Ives. I had revenged myself on Ives—or maybe—my husband—himself—

"It's absurd! It's utterly impossible—" I said in a shaking voice. Hearing the quaver, I stopped and pulled myself together. From my tone, the two men could get a wrong impression. How could they know—or be made to understand that I had been wide awake two whole nights? The first night I had worried about my quarrel with Bob; the second, I was bothered about Ann's danger.

I was unstrung and not in shape to answer their questions.

I clung weakly to the back of a chair. I was facing a side door, close to the assistant prosecutor. It opened slowly and a comfortable fat man entered. He was between me and the bright window. The figure looked familiar, the features I could not distinguish.

"How do you do, Mrs. Lorimer?"
The fat man came straight toward me
with outstretched hand.

It was Morrison! It was the famous and efficient detective who had been with our party all through the Mexican horror. It was dear old Morrison who had pulled us out of more than one dreadful scrape! And he had arrived in the prosecutor's office
just on time to pull me out of another.
I decided.

The heat of that June day was suddenly, as if he expected to shatter
my morale and to surprise my story
from my unwilling lips.

He threw his next question at me
suddenly, as if he expected to shatter
my morale and to surprise my story
from my unwilling lips.

"You were seen riding in a secluded
corner of the park with Claude Ives
the day he was shot." The assistant prosecutor talked rapidly but very distinctly. "Laborers, fixing the roads saw you there. Your husband was also noticed driving away furiously in his car. He nearly ran over one of the road-members. Your husband did not return home until nearly morning.
Ordinarily, he is a man of precise habits. He disappeared from town on the first train after the murder. You see, Mrs. Lorimer, we have a good deal of evidence, involving several members of your family. Perhaps you would like to clear up some of it—by telling your own story?"

"My story!" It was unbelievable

GRAND JURY TO KEEP BUSY ON B. B. PROBE

Will Resume Investigation
Monday—Plan Public
Control.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 2.—The Cook county grand jury which has been conducting the investigation into the alleged "fixing" of the 1919 world's series today was made a special body to continue its search of baseball history for evidences of crookedness. The regular sessions of the grand jury were completed yesterday.

There was no session of the jury today other than a perfunctory one to dispose of the formalities making it a special body. Testimony will be resumed Monday, however, and on Tuesday John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, Fred Toney, giant pitcher, and Penny Kauff, former outfielder of the New York club will conclude evidence relating to Helme Zimmerman, Hal Chase and Leo Magee, National league players who are alleged to have conspired to "throw" ball games during the 1919 season.

It is probable that the grand jury will delve into reports of dishonesty in the national pastime stretching back through more than a decade. For Public Control.

The present investigation it was learned today is hastening a plan which has been under discussion for some time among sporting men and others to put the control of the game under a national tribunal, composed of prominent men not now connected with baseball, rather than to have it controlled by private interests. Four major league clubs, the Chicago White Sox, the Chicago Cubs, the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Nationals have endorsed the plan, and it was understood that the Boston American and National League club owners also approved its adoption.

Already the baseball men are conferring as to the personnel of the tribunal. Such names as General Pershing, William H. Taft, Kenesha Mountain Landis and Major Leonard Wood were mentioned, though it was admitted that none of these men had been approached.

The plan has been outlined to the president of every club in the major and minor leagues and requests were made for a quick reply to the statement sent out which was signed by the Chicago American and Pittsburgh New York and Chicago National league clubs.

Sen. Lodge Keeping Us Out, Cox Charge

Enid, Okla., Oct. 1.—Governor Cox opened his presidential campaign in Oklahoma here today with an early morning speech in the tabernacle, where he again made the League of Nations the paramount issue. He also discussed farm questions.

The Governor was met here by a delegation of Oklahoma Democrats who accompanied him during his tour of the state which included eight speeches, the last to be delivered at Tulsa at 8 o'clock tonight.

Governor Cox in his address here charged Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, with being the leader of the "reactionary forces," and ridiculed the front porch campaign, asserting it had collapsed and had been nailed up. The nominee discussed the League of Nations and asserted that Senator Lodge was responsible for keeping us out of the league.

Locomobile, Mercer
Prices Cut Today

New York, Oct. 1.—The Hare's Motors, Inc., operating company for the Locomobile and Mercer concerns, announced today the price of standard Locomobile cars had been reduced $1,350 and Mercer models $1,000.

The reduction is due to "our belief that the spirit of the times demands a reduction in prices so that the purchasing value of the dollar may be increased to a point where there is sufficient buying power to properly finance the business needs of the country," the announcement said.

Brundage Questions
Right of Few Banks

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—Continued existence of the Illinois branches of the Bank of Montreal, Bank of Naples, Bank of Nova Scotia, and the Canada Bank of Commerce, after Jan. 1, 1921, was questioned today by the Attorney General. The new banking law, which rules out all private banks, becomes effective the first of next year.

BROOKLYN QUIZ DELAYED.

New York, Oct. 1.—Because of the press of other business, District Attorney Lewis, of Brooklyn today announced he would not be able to complete his examination today of Brooklyn National league baseball players in connection with reports that an attempt had been made to "fix" the approaching world's series.

Mr. Lewis said that he had arranged a conference with President Charles H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club for tomorrow when other players will be questioned. He said he probably would make a statement tomorrow, or as soon as the examination of the players is completed.

Three of the Brooklyn players—Outfielder "Hy" Myers, Infielder James Johnston and Pitcher George Mohart—were questioned today by Assistant District Attorney Caldwell. No statement was issued as to what transpired at the conference.

When the players left the district attorney's office they were greeted with cheers by a large crowd gathered at the entrance to the building.

Coroner Samuel J. Whetstone spent a few hours in Dixon today on business.

GLEASON'S TEAM HAS FORLORN HOPE TODAY

Indians Now Lead Clean
Sox By Two Full
Contests.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—The Chicago White Sox had only a fighting chance for the American League pennant today as they went into the second game of the series with St. Louis which rounds out the 1920 schedule. Trailing Cleveland by two games, the lone hope of the Sox lay in capturing both contests here which allow them to pull up on even terms with the Indians, if the latter dropped their final pair at Detroit. In that event both clubs would finish the season with 97 victories and 57 defeats, necessitating a play-off for the championship and the right to contend with Brooklyn in the world's series.

Dick Kerr was expected to be Manager Gleason's pitching selection for today's game with Deberry, a recruit, as his probable opponent.

INDIANS NEED ONE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 2.—The Cleveland Indians, American League leaders, went into the third game of the final series against Detroit today requiring but one more victory to clinch the pennant. Yesterday's even break in a double header with the Tigers, while Chicago lost to St. Louis widened the gap between the Indians and Sox to two full games and assured Cleveland of a tie and a post-season series, even though they lose the remaining games to Detroit and Chicago wins the two remaining on its schedule.

Probable pitching selections were Leveleskie for Cleveland and Daus for Detroit.

Deny Cox Kicked on A. P. Reports

New York, Oct. 1.—Denial of the published charges of former President W. H. Taft that Governor Cox attacks the Associated Press for failing to "give to the public a fair account of his speeches, the crowds and other phases of his long tour," was made here today by George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

His statement follows:
"It seems to be in the atmosphere of the Republican party to make misstatements. Some of them are deliberate, some based on ignorance. Charity inclines me to the belief that the latter was responsible for an assertion by Mr. Taft in an article published this morning that Governor Cox's attacks, the Associated Press for failing to give to us public a fair account of his speeches, the crowds and other phases of his long tour."

"Not one of us connected with the Democratic campaign has the slightest complaint of the Associated Press," or any reputable press association. They have given us a perfectly fair deal.

"They supply the news to papers but they cannot compel them to print it. Mr. Taft has simply caught the contagion of misstatement, that is all."

Tuesday, Sept. 14th, 1920.
State of Illinois, County of Lee, ss.
On Tuesday, the 14th day of September, 1920,

Order No. 1134, Hilda M.
Nelson, mother's pension	2
Order No. 1135, Elizabeth
Murdoch, mother's pension	2

On the second day, at the hour of 9 o'clock in the forenoon, the said convention was called to order and the report of the committee on Credentials was read and also the report of the Constitutional Convention. Committee and a general discussion of the Constitutional Convention was had by Hon. Fred Hess, of Urbana, Ill.

An address by Hon. Charles E. W. Woodard, President of the Constitutional Convention, was very interesting and his remarks in part were as follows:

"The work so far accomplished by the Convention in Committee of the Whole may be summarized as follows:

1. Authority, after referendum vote approving the same, to provide for the establishment, maintenance and administration of funds to be loaned upon the security of the farm lands. The proposal is popularly called the "Farm Loan Proposal."

2. The warehouse article substantially as contained in our present constitution.

3. The preamble to the constitution the same as the present one.

4. The trial of the following significant changes:

Permitting the reading of the Bible in the public schools by the following language:

"The reading in the public schools of selections from any version of the Old and New Testament, without comment shall never be held to be in conflict with the Constitution."

The trial of Civil cases by a jury of less than twelve, and civil cases may be authorized by law.

Women shall be eligible to jury service, but shall not be required to serve.

Prosecution other than in capital cases may be instituted on information filed by leave of a Court of Record.

The full panel of a Grand Jury to consist of fifteen persons, eleven of whom must concur in the finding of a true bill.

The republican form of government shall never be abandoned, modified or impaired within this state.

The laws of this state shall be applicable alike to all citizens without regard to race or color, and no citizen shall be prohibited from doing any act which any other citizen may do because or by reason of the race or color of such citizen.

Authority granted to Municipalities to zone the city for the purpose of regulating manufacturing and other industries, and for the purpose of preventing the invasion of residence districts by such industries.

A requirement that a public utility in order to use the streets of a city must procure the consent of the corporation.

An article on counties with the following significant changes:

"A provision for the election of a County Assessor. A requirement that the compensation of county officials shall be fixed by the County Board. No requirement, as at present, that the county officers must be paid from the fees earned and collected."

Authorizing the general assembly to provide a scheme of county organization other than that set forth in the constitution.

Following Mr. Woodward's address a general discussion on the Constitutional Convention followed. The introduction of Mr. Woodward came as a great surprise to the audience, but his presentation of the subject was prepared from the attention recorded him.

The meeting closed with a talk by Charles W. Byers, of Springfield, who spoke on the needed legislation for the Constitutional Convention completed its work and the new constitution.

Hon. Frank H. Noleman, of the State Tax Commission, spoke on the relation of the State Tax Commission to the county bodies, explaining the workings of that body and the interrelationship of county and state taxation systems.

At 7 o'clock in the evening a banquet was served at "The Armory" for all delegates and the ladies attending the convention with their husbands. Addresses were made by several prominent speakers.

On the third day, the convention was called to order at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. An address was made by Hon. George F. Bell, of Loda, Ill., on "County Boards."

Thereupon an address by Hon. J. H. Mital, of Ottawa, made a very able address on "Probate Courts."

Hon. Frank Kopta, of Robinson, Ill., spoke on "Needed Revision of Primary and Election Laws."

The selection of officers for the ensuing year and appointment of standing committees and the selection of the location of the next convention were had.

The selection of the said location for the next convention was Altoona, Ill.

This convention was probably one of the most interesting and instructive conventions the association has ever held.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Fred G. Dimick,
James Buckley,
W. J. Edwards,
Attending Delegates.

Present same as at morning session. The Board then proceeded to consider the report of the Committee on the matter of securing a suitable memorial of some kind in honor of the soldiers and sailors who served in the late World War, announced to the Board that a very ornamental bronze tablet can be secured and placed on the wall of the lower corridor of the court house at a price of from twenty-five to thirty-five hundred dollars; said tablet to contain each and every name of the persons who served in the late war. Thereupon Supervisor Buckley moved that Lee County proceed to purchase such a tablet and said motion having received no second, thereupon Supervisor Sterling moved that said Committee be instructed to investigate the law in regard to an appropriation for such purchase and also to get the best price obtainable for a suitable tablet, which motion was duly seconded by Supervisor Miller and now said question coming on for the consideration of the Board and the Chairman having put said question to a vote of the Board, the motion was declared carried.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed 8½ pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before childbirth."—Mrs. JOHN L. KIRK, Woodford, Vt.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

Boone Co. Dairymen to Set Up Own Plant

Belvidere, Ill., Oct. 1.—Milk producers here voted to establish a co-operative plant to handle all the milk in this district. The action came when they were left without a market for their daily output of 25,000 pounds by the closing of the Borden plant.

The milk producers of the Belvidere section are not in the Milk Producers' Co-operative Marketing association and hence are not included in the plans of that organization. The Belvidere district, having lost its market with the Borden company by the shutting down of its plant there, finds itself in a position where it must dispose of its product through its own agencies.
